STATSPEC

[REDACTED] was interviewed in Personnel on 7 February 1950 and was given the required tests on the same date. He was interviewed in [REDACTED] at that time but this office made no commitment until completion of test results.

Results of tests were available on 15 February. [REDACTED] was considered inadequate for a GS-5 or GS-7 intelligence analyst, and weak for a GS-5 editor's job. on 23 February [REDACTED] stated that test results did not indicate qualifications for editorial trainee.

On 1 March [REDACTED] was sent a reject letter by Personnel.

On 15 March the Director received a letter from Congressman McMillan highly recommending [REDACTED]. Mr. Pforzheimer replied stating that the file had again been reviewed and there was still nothing available.

On 21 March the Executive wrote to Andre Visson also stating there was no job available in answer to Mr. Visson's letter of inquiry.
